Section 2: Background Information

Since COVID, Oxygen has emerged as one of the essential commodities in the management of COVID-19 specifically for cases requiring breathing support making it critical to have adequate and consistent supply. Pre-COVID-19, availability of oxygen was low across Kenya particularly in the public health facilities estimated at 16%, and where available the supply has not been optimal and lacked the necessary distribution and delivery infrastructure to the user points. Some progress has been reported in the recent past as counties and facilities have established infrastructure to support oxygen therapy. Some installed oxygen-generating plants, a few installed bulk liquid oxygen tanks while others set aside resources to procure more oxygen in cylinders as well as investments in the diagnostic tools in the form of pulse oximeters.

Despite these investments, access barriers have been observed. In places where onsite generating plants are available, these were piped to one or two units therefore limiting supply to a few patients. Equipment failure and lack of spare parts have also been reported in this category. Where cylinders are used, these are by the bedside per patient- a situation to improve..

Amref Health Africa in Kenya through the Global Fund COVID-19 Response Mechanism (C19RM) is supporting the following infrastructure works;

1. Supply of oxygen through procurement of liquid oxygen, onsite generating PSA plants and cylinders;
2. Installation of high-volume supply capacity through bulk liquid tanks, PSAs and centralized manifolds accompanied by oxygen piping to bed outlets; and
3. Supply of oxygen therapy kits (humidifiers, regulators, flow meters) to facilities using cylinders.

In this regard, Amref Health Africa in Kenya seeks to recruit biomedical engineering Consultants to provide expertise to supervise the above infrastructure works. The consultants will work closely with Amref Health Africa in Kenya team, the Ministry of Health, and the County Health Departments.
